city and throughout the State having made statements to the effect that, by action of the Legislature, the State tax on personal property had been abolished, all such will be found entirely erroneous, by a perusal of the fol-

entirely erroneous, by a perusal of the following:—
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH, LARRISHURG, Pa., April 23 1807,—Editors of Evening Telepraph:—Many of the journals of the State have given currency to the following:—
"The Legislature has passed an act abolishing the State tax on personal property, and substituting therefor a levy of $300, apportioned among the different counties according to population."
Allow me to say that no such act has been sent to this Department for examination and approval, and that, consequently, no such act could have received the concurrent sanction of the two Houses of the Legislature. As it is desirable that the prevailing erroneous impression in regard to this matter should erroneous impression in regard to this matter should be corrected. I would respectfully request the inser-tion of the above-stated fact in your columns. Yours, very truly. ISAAC B. GARA, Assistant Secretary of State.

A GRAND REUNION FESTIVAL OF THE COLORED A GRAND REUNION FESTIVAL OF THE COLORED PROPIE'S UNION LEAGUE ASSOCIATION, of this city, will take place on to morrow (Friday) evening, at National Hall, Market street, above Twelfth. All the friends of freedom's cause, all those who engaged in the elevation of the colored people of this city, aiding them to obtain the right of travel in our city cars, and the public generally, are respectfully invited. Among the speakers announced are Hons, M. B. Lowry and James N. Kerns, and several members of the State Legislature. Some other of the principal features of interest which are made public will be good music, a grand promenade, and delectable refreshments—so that the nade, and delectable refreshments—so that the most fastidious taste can have a satisfactory choice among all the departments of this re-

A LATE CONTRABANDIST .- Henry Smith, man of color, who is a native of Virginia, and was at one time the personal chattel of one bitter F. F. V., resided, until last evening, with Mr. Molenski, at No. 1414 Walnut street, Yesterday that gentleman discovered, when looking over his wardrobe, that certain flanlooking over his wardrove, that certain flan-nels and shirts, etc., were missing. He ques-tioned Smith, who not giving satisfactory re-plies, was arrested. Being searched, one of the articles was found upon him, and a look into his washing, in the possession of a woman at No. 1009 Lombard street, revealed the other articles. Alderman Tunison committed Smith Robberies .- The store of R. V. Massey, Jr. located at No. 428 N. Third street, was entered last night by some parties unknown, who gained access to the counting-room by forcing off a shutter in the rear part of the building. The sale was broken open, and about $30 in more are represented.

oney appropriated. The tavern of John Hagan, No. 2313 Callowhill street, was entered some time this morning through the cellar door. By means of the trap-door, the thieves came up behind the counter, and stole from the money-drawer $22 worth of new nickel coins, $7 in new pennies, a lot of old coins, lour bottles of the best brandy, one box of cigars, and a quantity of tobacco.

A YOUNG BOY AT AN OLD DODGE,-William Gramlich, aged 13, was caught in an operation which caused his arrest at Cadwalader and Master streets this morning. William stationed himself on one of the many trucks which com-posed a train on the North Penna, Railroad, After the train had started, and when passing Master street, he, under cover of darkness, threw off a quantity of pig-iron, and then managed to get off himself. He was soon after taken into custody, and was held by Alderman Shoemaker in default of $500 ball. Shoemaker in default of $500 ball.

Not Decreasing .- The police reports indicate no abatement of importance, but exhibit a gradual increase. Last night a number of persons, about twenty-eight, managed in some way or other to get outside of such great quantities of the "potable" that they were soon in a state of quiescence. Not able to take care of themselves, they were lodged in the Second District Station, Lieutenant Hampton, and in the morning were obliged to pay their lodging fees, and then permitted to depart.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE-ELECTION OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE—ELECTION OF OFFICERS,—The members composing the Chamber of Commerce, of the city of Philadelphia, held their annual election this morning for officers to serve the ensuing year. The vote resulted as follows:—President, Joseph S. Perot, Managers, Alexander G. Cattell, James A. Wright, Howard Hinchman, Charles H. Cummings, Seneca E. Malone, Nathau Brooke, John H. Matherer, and Charles Knecht. Trassvers. mings, Seneca E. Malone, Nathan Brooke, John H. Michener, and Charles Knecht; Treasurer, Samuel L. Ward.

ANOTHER ONE CAUGHT .- Charles Anderson. Another One Caught.—Charles Anderson, aged 20, was arrested hast night by Officer Grant, at hisresidence, on Frankford road below Wildey street, for an alleged complicity in the robbery of Sheppard's shipyard, at Beach and Shackamaxon streets, of fron, copper, and brass fastenings. It will be remembered that one Peacock was brought up yesterday for the same offense. Alderman Clouds held Anderson, in default of $800 bail for a further hearing. $600 bail, for a further hearing.

THE NEW SPRING STYLES-BOXNETS-DESS FABRICS - CLOARS - SHAWLS - PARA-SOLS - NOVELTIES IN VOGUE AND NOVELTIES IN PROSPECT. - The close of Lent has afforded the fashionable world an opportunity of "com-ing out," arrayed in all the novelties which they have adopted for the present season. At the regular spring opening in millinery, a couple of weeks ago, we gave some account of the various styles of hats and bonnets which the autocrats of that department had decreed up to that date. But now that the fair devotees of fashion have had ample time to subject these "attyles" to a proper senting and to easy their "attyles" to a proper senting and to easy their "styles" to a proper scrutiny, and to pass their deliberate opinion upon them, it may not be amiss to revert to the subject again. And here, at the very outset, we find some hesitation prevalling in certain quarters, springing from a rumor which comes all the way from the Tui-leries, to the effect that the leaders of fashion in the salars of the "gay capital" are engaged in discussing the momentous question as to whether or not they shall do away with the bonnet altogether, and substitute in its place a fragment of costly lace, the bair being elaborately dressed to give this fantastic arrangements becoming and proper effect. In the altogether, and substitute in the place a fragment of costly lace, the bair being elaborately dressed to give this fantastic arrangements becoming and proper effect. In the altogether the salar proper effect. ment a becoming and proper effect. In the absence of positive advices upon this subject, we can do nothing more than advert to it, and then proceed to notice the novettes which are posttively in vogue and unquestionably fashion-itively in vegue and unquestionably fashionable.

The variety in bonnets is confined to the shape rather than to the material or mode of trimming. A favorite in the way of a "white chip" is notleeable. A delicate pink flower is worn in front of this, while the lower portion of the crown terminates in small points, from which dangle the obnoxious crystal pendants whose sway, it seems, is not yet terminated. There is also a "Marie Antoinette" style, made up of white crape, with an embroidery of white silk cord and crystal beads upon the crown. A double wreath of small leaves and flowers sets off the brim, while the strings are long, and narrow, and ornamented with wide tuils. There is likewise another "white chip" pattern, which has, in the way of trimming, maize ribbon, binck lace, jet, and, now and then, a straw leat. There have not been many new colors introduced as yet, but one entitled Bismark is favorably regarded by many. Where this is employed the streamers are edged with lace, and further ornamented with a flower on the left, and a trailing vine of leaves in bronze. This new color, however, has its decided foes, who allege that it imparts a sallow tinge to the complexion. As we can conceive of no such who aliege that it imparts a sallow tinge to the complexion. As we can conceive of no such perversity of taste as to bring sallowness into fashion, the adherents of "Bismark" may not become very numerous.

For the especial b-nefit of the young girls—those who are still "too young to leave their mothers," we imagine—some fertile genius has devised a very odd and entirely new shape, which has been christened the "Agrippa." In the centre it is almost wide enough to cover the top of the head. Thence it tapers off to points, which are fied together, but there are no fies in front, For a carriage nat, white shirred illusion, dotted with crystal pearls, and with crystal pendants dangling from the edge, is popular. There are also several patterns of white crape hats, ornamented with tuberoses and black point lace, or studded with amber bendants. Amber trimming indeed is highly pendants Amber trimming, indeed, is highly favored, the pale, clear bue being the more fashionable, as well as the most expensive.

Opera bonnets are made of soft, downy white Opera bonnets are made of soft, downy white marabout, trimmed with metallic ornaments, roses or lilles, and crystal drops. Less expensive than these are evening hats with a shirred table crown, crossed with straw cord, a bandeau of forget-me-nots and crystal pearls, with a straw cord and tassel falling over the right shoulder. A still greater novelty than all the others is an ariangement of simple peacock feathers, which has found some adherents in New York; but we doubt if it meats with any New York; but we doubt if it meets with any ivor in this locality.
In the matter of veils, we find a new style in the shape of a half handkerchief. These are attached to the bornet in front, and worn thrown back over it. In the department of dress fabrics, the importations have not been so large as last year; but many of those displayed for sale are of very rich material and neatly figured, while others silks, brocaded with figured, while others are rositively grotesque in that respect. Black silks, brocaded with figures of insects and miniature birds, brightly tinted and "ornamented with gold thread, appear to be gaining favor, but should be set off with trimmings which are altogether too costly to render them extremely popular with us. For out-door suits there is a new material, composed entirely of cotton and called "velveteen" which though cotton, and called "velveteen," which, though quite firm, is not too heavy to be worn at this time of the year. There still prevails a great time of the year. There still prevails a great variety in the cutting and trimming of dresses, the gored dresses, with skirt and body cut in one, are passing out of fashion; and in their place, among numerous others, is one which has plain front and sides, with the back breadths straight and gathered up, as in the days of "busties." Still another has each breadth of straight and gathered up, as in the days of "busties." Still another has each breadth of the gored skirt full, so as to hang more gracefully than the plain skirt. For evening dresses, pearl-colored or white corded stik is used, with a bodice of velvet. Short walking dresses are generally made in one skirt, although the double skirts are still fashionable.

In the way of cloaks there are no novelties, white or light colors being preferred for walking purposes. They are cut quite short, and trimmed according to the wearer's preferences. Nor are there any novelties announced in the way of lace shawls. Heavily embroidered muslin shawls can be had by those who desire them, while white lace or muslin bodies are still popular, and likely to continue so. But plain linen collars must be cast aside for the Shakespearian points, embroidered, or edged with Valenciennes. Parasols, to be quite fashionable, should be elaborately embroidered, and covered with lace, imitation or real, Heavy fringes and stripes of bright, contrasting colors are also to be noticed, as well as emparated and covered. ing colors are also to be noticed, as well as em-broideries in amber, let, and gold. The newest style, perhaps, is made up of satin, with a contrasted lining, a narrow edge of white lace, and an absence of embroidery.

ATTEMPT TO DEFRAUD .- Samuel Budd was before Recorder Eneu this morning, charged with fraud. He entered into a conspiracy with one William K. Lewis to defraud the uncle of the latter, Daniel B. Lewis, residing in Hamburg, Berks county, in this State. The latter gentleman is an administrator of an estate, and always having large sums of money at his com-mand, the parties thought they could easily vic-mand, the parties thought they could easily victimize him.

Accordingly, Budd visited him at his place of residence, about five months ago, representing that his name was Senora, an attorney-at-law in this city, and desired to sell a bond purporting to be signed by James B. Jarvis, of Broadway, New York. It represented to cover property to the amount of $25,000. The complainant was induced to purchase the bond for $5000. About a month ago he visited New York, and on making inquiry relative to the party, was informed that no one of that name resided at the place mentioned to him. He immediately came to this city and placed the case in the hands of Detectives Webb and R. R. Smith, Detective Samuel Smith proceeded to Budd's place of abode two or three times, but could not find him. He at last searched the house, and and him. He at last searched the house, and discovered the individual. After a hearing the Recorder bound him over in the sum of $8000 bail for a further hearing on Monday, May 6. William K. Lewis had not been arrested up to

A MERITORIOUS DISCOVERY.—Every judicious housekeeper justly holds in high extimation the great utility of a superior kitchen range. This large class of the community will be gratified to learn that Mr. J. S. Clark, the well-known inventor of the best and most celebrated improvements in stove and ranges, has perfected and is now introducing his Gold Medal Range, which is pronounced by the most competent judges to be far superior to all others.

The merits of this highly improved range consist in its great economy of fuel, its simplicity and convenience of management, and the efficiency and quickness with which it performs the important processes of cooking and baking. It will heat water for a bath-room, and will heat three rooms comfortably. Send for a circular. J. S. Clark, 1008 Market street,

What is More Common or Distressing than a Billious Attack? Who is not familiar with the well-known symptoms—Oppression across the Stomach and Chest, Low Spirits, Restlessness, Gloominess of Mind, Wearlness, Dull Headache, Dirty, Greasy Appearance of the Skin, Yellow Tinge of the White of the Eyes, Loss of Appetite, and Costiveness? Few, indeed, of the more ordinary ills of life are more widely prevalent than these Billous Disorders, and yet they may readily be got rid of by using Dr. Jayne's Sanative Pills, by whose operation the Liver will be rapidly restored to healthy the Liver will be rapidly restored to healthy action, the vittated secretions of the Stomach changed, all Costiveness removed, and the whole system assisted in recovering its normal condition. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared only at No. 242 Chesnut street.

WE WELCOME to our columns again our old friend Dr. Humphreys and his Specific Homocopathic Remedies. We have known the Dr. for many years, and know him as a conscientious Christian gentleman and an accompilshed physician. We have used his Specifics ourselves, and they are used extensively among our friends, and are free to say that they are all that they claim to be—invaluable Family Medicines. All who have the pleasure of Dr. H.'s acquaintance know that he would offer nothing to the public unless it was fully up to the standard of recommendation.—Buffalo Christian Advocate, Deport, No. 562 Broadway, N. Y.

Do Not be decrived. No foreign per-fumes can be imported for sale at the pre-sent rate of duty. Vile imitations of them are imposed upon the credulous. Phalon's "Night-Blooming Cereus" stands alone, unapproached, incomparable; the most popular floral extract in existence, and far ahead of anything of the kind that Europe has ever produced. — New Haven Register. THE PRESIDENT was surprised at the Japanese being so handsomely dressed. Fat-Tom-Matto the Interpreter, explained to the President tha their dress was fashioned after a suit sent the Tycoon by Charles Stokes & Co., the Eminent Clothiers of Philadelphia, at the time of the visit of the last embassy. The good sense of the Japs in adopting this style was commented upon by the whole Cabinet.

THE JAPANESE EMBISSY.

New Schedule of Movements-Visit to

[SPECIAL DESPATOR TO EVENING TELEGRAPH.] New York, April 25.—The arrangements for the future movements of the Japanese Commissioners, now in this city, have been materially changed. The wowle company will depart for Washington to-morro, instead of Saturday. No official visits will be made here until they have paid their respects to the President and Cabinet, and made known to them the ostensible object of their mission to this country. After a short stay in Washington they return to this city.

The Junior National Base-Ball Convention.

SPECIAL DESPATOR TO THE EVENING TELEGRAPH. I New York, April 25 .- The delegates to the annual convention of the Junior Base-Ball National Association assembled to-day at the Cooper Institute. There are about seventy represented in the Association, and the credentials of forty were received. This after-noon the proceedings were not of an important nature, but at a later hour many matters of interest will be considered.
